

Please do not let the banks go around the law. I do not want anyone calling to sell me anything. If I am doing business with a bank, I would expect they have my address and can send me their information without disturbing my home business of music lessons or my meal.